

"I think these are complete pictures -- but we see them half, cropped and cut, this is either because of the frame of these paintings or because of the frame of our minds."